

Trollskogen, Gamleby, Småland

Dear LANDPATHS team and followers,

We hope you had a nice summer! We are delighted to introduce three new members of the LANDPATHS team with this newsletter, highlight recent appearances of some team members in the news and share conference tips and information on our upcoming retreat.

NEW LANDPATHS MEMBERS

Johanna Tangnäs has started a postdoc in subproject Agricultural Landscapes. She is a political scientist and works at the Department of Political Science and Natural Resource Governance, CBM, SLU.

Ulrika Persson-Fischier is an anthropologist who works at Swedesd and has joined the subproject Future imaginaries. Her work is focused on sustainability, transformative change and transdisciplinarity, involving societal actors. Vera Telemo is a research assistant in subproject Barriers and Opportunities for Change working at the Stockholm Resilience Centre. Her focus is on citizen assemblies as a tool for landscape management.

LANDPATHS retreat October 15-16

On October 15-16th the LANDPATHS team will gather at Wiks slott for a retreat. Twenty three team members have signed up for the retreat. On the first day we will have discussions on conclusions and recommendations (so far) with some of our followers, namely Therese Elfström, HaV working on environmental goals monitoring, living lakes and waterways, Ingrid Johansson-Horner, NV, working on green infrastructure and biodiversity in urban/peri-urban areas. Ann Akerskog, NV, working with urban/community planning, Klara Tullback Rosenström, Länsstyrelsen Stockholm, who is an environmental strategist with focus on landscape ecology, green infrastructure and ecosystem services. We'll also welcome Ulrika Stensdotter Blomberg, HaV, and Hannah Östergård Roswall, NV, from the respective HaV and NV research offices.

Welcome!

Johanna Tangnäs, postdoc,
SP Agricultural Landscapes

Ulrika Persson-Fischier, adjunct,
SP Future imaginaries

Vera Telemo, research assistant,
SP Barriers and Opportunities for Change

Tell us about your newly published papers, new staff or share content tips for our blog, X @LANDPATHS1, LinkedIn YouTube channel or newsletter landpaths@geo.uu.se

New on the LANDPATHS blog

LANDPATHS MEMBERS IN THE NEWS

Tuija Hilding-Rydevik, subproject Agricultural landscapes, has over the summer contributed to two different debate articles in the news on the need of a Nature Policy Framework in Sweden. Tim Daw, subproject Barriers And Opportunities For Change, has recently been interviewed by the Swedish Radio on the upcoming citizens' jury on forests in Voxnadalen.

THE NEED FOR A NATURE POLICY FRAMEWORK IN SWEDEN

COMMUNITY REPRESENTATIVES ARE BEING RECRUITED TO TAKE PART IN A CITIZENS' JURY ON FORESTS

Get featured on our blog

AN OPPORTUNITY TO SHARE YOUR RESEARCH

Sharing your research on our blog is a great opportunity to practice writing popular science and update your colleagues and our followers on the progress you are making within LANDPATHS. You can either send us tips from which we produce a draft that you can add your own quote to, you write about your research (ongoing or published) from scratch with some guidance on the format from our side, or we record an interview with you through Zoom from which we create a blog- and a youtube-post. Just reach out to us at landpaths@geo.uu.se to see how we can best highlight your work!

Conference tips fall 2024

Mångfaldskonferensen, SLU
Ultuna, 10 Oct 2024 (in Swedish)

Nordic Symposium for Biodiversity, Trondheim, Norway
22-23 Oct 2024

UN Biodiversity Conference,
Cali, Colombia
21 Oct - 1 Nov 2024

Heritage and Horizon: Cultivating relationships between cultural heritage and sustainable development,
Edinburgh Climate Change Institute,
5 Nov 2024

